I build brands from the first idea to the products, campaigns, and experiences people connect with.

Brand and creative leader with 20+ years across brand strategy, creative direction, design, marketing, and communications. At USF's Fromm Institute, a higher-education nonprofit where I've worked since 2005, I lead creative, marketing, communications, PR, and technology; I built its marketing from zero, grew enrollment 10% in 2025–2026, and wrote a national press release syndicated to 500+ news outlets. I also co-founded and exited two apparel brands, FAZE Apparel (acquired, 2019) and State of Flux (partner buyout, 2024), bringing products to market through direct-to-consumer (DTC), e-commerce, wholesale, and business-to-business (B2B) sales. Completed USF's Certificate in Applied Agentic AI (2026).
